

- Since 1999, the center has been working with researchers, students and ordinary citizens around the world to explore paths to peace and reconciliation, and to share findings with the community
- Projects include:
  - Comparative case studies in citizen peacebuilding
  - Kugelman Faculty and Graduate Student Fellowships
  - Research seminars & public lectures
  - Olive Tree Initiative research
  - Certificate Program in Conflict Analysis and Resolution
  - Gang intervention training in mediation and negotiation
  - Facilitation of cross-conflict dialogues locally and internationally
  - Citizen Peacebuilding Awards

949.824.1227 | pgarb@uci.edu

www.citizenpeacebuilding.org

The center conducts and supports research through fellowships, conferences and hands-on participation in citizen peacebuilding.

investigate

The center offers an academic program in conflict analysis and resolution for UCI students, and training in mediation and negotiation in a wide variety of contexts, from local gang intervention programs to international negotiation and mediation.

innovate

The center encourages and supports citizen peacebuilding in conflict zones around the globe, ranging from the Middle East to Northern Ireland, and from the former Soviet Union to Bosnia/Herzegovina.

impact